

Lisbon walking tour

Are you looking forward to discovering Lisbon in one day?

You'll start the morning exploring the heart of the city, walking through districts such as the Bohemian Bairro Alto, the fancy Chiado, the picturesque Alfama and the vibrant Baixa. You are sure to see some beautiful views.

After lunch, you'll be heading to Belem district, from where the Portuguese navigators left, looking for the "New World". Here you'll visit Jeronimos Monastery and Belem Tower. Both are classified by the UNESCO as the World Heritage Site and the Monument to the Discoveries.

Besides the rich history, Lisbon is also a modern city and the proof of that is the "Expo", the park where the world exhibition of 1998 happened. Incorporated in the living area of the city, this part also has a huge amount of modern architecture that can't be missed.
